"JANE GOES A-WOOING" HAPPILY COMBINES ROMANCE AND TRUTH

A combination of realism and romance is offered in Vivian Martin's new Paramount picture, "Jane Goes A-Wooing," which will be presented at the Alta theatre today. Vivian is seen as a courageous little Irish girl who is left with the care of her twin sisters when her father, who is an irresponsible vagabond, deserts and leaves his three children destitute. Mickey Donovan, who runs the White House lunch cart, wants Jane to marry him, but Jane does not care enough for Mickey. She sets out to make a living herself and she succeeds, and also falls in love with a rich man. But the rich young man, who seems the ideal lover at first, soon shows Jane that his qualities are not the best, and she can't help but compare him to Mickey, to the latter's favor. In the end we see Jane and Mickey happily united.

Vivian Martin is a vivacious and appealing Jane. This is announced as one of the strongest and most dramatic stories little Miss Martin has had in some time. Niles Welch plays the rich young man and Casson Ferguson is Mickey Donovan. Both are young actors of splendid ability.

Spottiswoode Aitken portrays an elderly playwright and Herbert Standing is Derondo, a theatrical manager. Others who are reported to do excellent work are Helen Dunbar, Myrdine Zuber, Clyde Benson, and the McKenzies.

The picture was directed by George Melford, who was assisted by Claude Mitchell. Paul Perry was the camera man. The story was written by Edith Kennedy. Miss Martin is splendidly supported.

About Digestion.
Digestion begins in the mouth. The food should be thoroughly masticated and swallowed before it is swallowed. When this is habitually neglected stomach trouble is almost sure to follow. If you now have indigestion eat no beef or veal and sparingly of other meats, masticate your food thoroughly and you may recover without taking any medicine. If your bowels are constipated take Chamberlain's Tablets. They not only cause a gentle movement of the bowels but aid digestion and strengthen the stomach.

For a Bilious Attack.
If you have bilious attacks give Chamberlain's Tablets a trial. They are excellent. Willis Browning, Flat, Kansas, Mo., has this to say of them: "About a year ago my wife used a bottle of Chamberlain's Tablets and they cured her of a bad bilious attack also of constipation from which she had been suffering for years."

Chamberlain's Cough and Croup Remedy.
Every family should keep this medicine at hand during the hot weather of the summer months. It is almost sure to be needed before the summer is over and when that time comes it is worth many times its cost. It has no superior for the purpose for which it is intended. Buy it now.

The course of events is fast and furious from start to finish. Lightning endeavors to capture a girl of the underworld to ensure Wu Fang and have him punished for a murder. Wu Fang has been paying attention to this girl Lottie and her sweetheart "Bull" Larsen comes upon the two together and kicks Wu Fang out of the house. The next morning "Bull" Larsen's body is discovered in the backroom of a saloon, in the twisted and contorted attitude that marks the death of all who have been stricken by the deadly scorns Wu Fang uses. Lottie has only one desire—to wreak vengeance upon the murderer of her sweetheart and it is on this desire that Lightning plays. She induces Lottie to make up to Wu Fang in Lottie's room in a spirit of bravado she admits that he killed "Bull." There are detectives in the next room with Lightning and they rush out to seize Wu, but using Lottie as a shield he backs away from them, upsets a lamp which sets the house afire and in the confusion escapes.

MADLAINE TRAVERSE AS TRIUMPHANT NEMESIS

That "Hell hath no fury like a woman scorned" is said to be eloquently exemplified in the character played by Madeline Traverse in "Gambling in Souls," her new photoplay. The story tells how Maria Dunning trails the man who ruined her husband in the stock market, and finally brings him and his son to a point where both face financial ruin and the son, in addition, is within the shadow of the penitentiary.

This play, a William Fox production which will be shown at the Arcade theatre today, is said to have in it qualities that hold the tense interest of the audience from start to finish. Miss Traverse is supported by Herbert Heyes, Murdoch MacQuarrie, Lew Zehring, Mary MacIvor, Frank Whitson and William Clifford; all screen players favorably known. The play was directed by Harry Millarde, and a scene described as most striking in accuracy of detail is a big gambling establishment in Chicago.

KING HOST AT ROYAL ASCOT ON TURF TODAY

Society Keeps Rarest Toilettes for Opening of "Season."

ASCOT HEATH, Eng., June 17.—(United Press.)—"Royal Ascot," the biggest social event of the British Turf season, opened today, after an interval of four years due to the war, and society turned out in force, reveling in the opportunity to display toilettes which war time economy forbade. The meeting opened with the usual royal procession, King George and Queen Mary, accompanied by the whole of the court, driving in state carriages, with liveried postillions and outriders, from Windsor Castle, about five miles distant.

Ascot marks the opening of the British society "season," and is one of the three race meetings largely patronized by women. Society goes to Epsom for the Derby, but it keeps its best and latest frocks for Ascot and Goodwood. Statisticians have vainly endeavored to compute the value or cost, of the toilettes displayed on the royal heath during the four days' racing.

The seeker after sport, and connoisseur of horsemanship is nobly catered to as the racing today, and the three days following provides the highest class, both for richness of prizes, and value and breeding of the equine competitors. Trophies and stakes to the value of over $120,000 are run for during the four days, the principal events today being the Coventry Stakes, over six furlongs, for classic two-year-olds (the winner is usually installed as favorite for the following year's Derby) value $5000; the Gold Vase, a much coveted $1000 trophy race for over a two miles course, and the Ascot Stakes, a two-and-a-quarter mile handicap worth $6,000. King George appoints his own stewards for the meeting, but otherwise he allows the Jockey Club to supervise. He makes no profit out of it, in fact generally has to dig down into his pockets to make up the prizes.

AMIDE BY AGREEMENT.
CHICAGO, June 18.—President Kamenkamp of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union has fired President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, signifying the strikers' willingness to abide by any decision reached between Gompers, Burleson and representative of the telegraphists.
